

Takashi & Kyoko

Hello!

We are Takashi and Kyoko, a happily married couple living in Aliso Viejo, Orange County, California. We dream of creating a family, to share our lives and love with a child. Kyoko is looking forward to being a stay-at-home mom. We are very excited to have a baby join us.

We admire the courage you have shown for taking this time to think about adoption for your beloved baby, and we welcome the opportunity to get to know you. We want to hear your thoughts, concerns and desires for your baby and incorporate those into how we raise this child. We know that we can provide your child a secure, loving and happy home.

SGI Meeting

About Us

We met in Japan and have been married for 23 years. Shortly after we were married, we started trying to have a baby. Unfortunately, we have been unsuccessful, and we hope and believe adoption will make our long-time dream of sharing our blessings with a baby come true.

We treasure our married life wholeheartedly. We know and trust each other entirely, and we enjoy spending most of our free time together. We love to support students and young people in our local community, also enjoy traveling, walking, watching movies and listening to music.

We enjoy taking trips abroad and to national parks throughout the US. Some of our favorite parks are here in California like Yosemite and Lake Tahoe. We love to learn about the history of the environment and see the wonders of nature. As parents, we plan to continue to travel and introduce our child the fun of discovering new places.

Our Faith

We both practice the SGI (Soka Gakkai International) Buddhism based on the philosophy of Nichiren, a Japanese Buddhist reformer. We first met each other through the SGI community and continue to stay involved with fellow members here in California.

We feel very fortunate to follow the humanistic philosophy of world peace in our lives. SGI Buddhism teaches us that life itself is the most important thing, and we believe that all human beings are equal. So, we cherish all people and try to treat everyone with respect and kindness. Our faith also teaches us that we all possess limitless potential within us, so we never lose hope in the face of whatever challenges life may bring us.

About Takashi, by His Wife

Takashi is an honest, gentle and smart but funny guy. He is very musical and likes to play the drums, compose music and sing. He has always enjoyed children, and when we lived in Japan he conducted a boys and girls chorus group. I'm sure he is looking forward to playing music with a son or daughter. Takashi is going to be a loving and patient father!

Takashi, Kyoko and our niece

Takashi was born and raised in Japan and graduated from Waseda University in Tokyo. He majored in Mathematics and Computer Sciences. He works for a Japanese company and his responsibility is research on new products in Internet Technology. He enjoys working from home now, and his flexible schedule will be perfect for when a baby joins us.

About Kyoko, by her Husband

My wife is honest, kind and consistent. She is a good cook. Her homemade soup is delicious! She likes playing table tennis and doing aerobics. She also enjoys music and the arts. She has practiced Sado, a Japanese tea ceremony, wearing a Kimono, a traditional costume, for years. She is ready for the challenge and joy of parenting and learning new things with a child.

Sports Event with our family friends

Kyoko was born and raised in Japan and graduated from a Language Institute in Tokyo. After working for several large companies in Japan she is currently a full-time homemaker and is very excited to be a full-time mom! She has been eagerly looking forward to raising a child.

Our Environment of People

Our friends are a diverse group, representing multiple ethnicities and most of them have children. We enjoy family gatherings like watching sporting events, going trick or treating on Halloween, and celebrating Thanksgiving and New Year. Our friends are very supportive of our adoption plan and we are all looking forward to welcoming our child into our network.

Our Values

As parents to be, we feel our most important job is to support our child's health and happiness. We will give unconditional love to our son or daughter and raise him/her in a harmonious and happy family. In that way, we envision our child nourishing the happiness and peace within them.

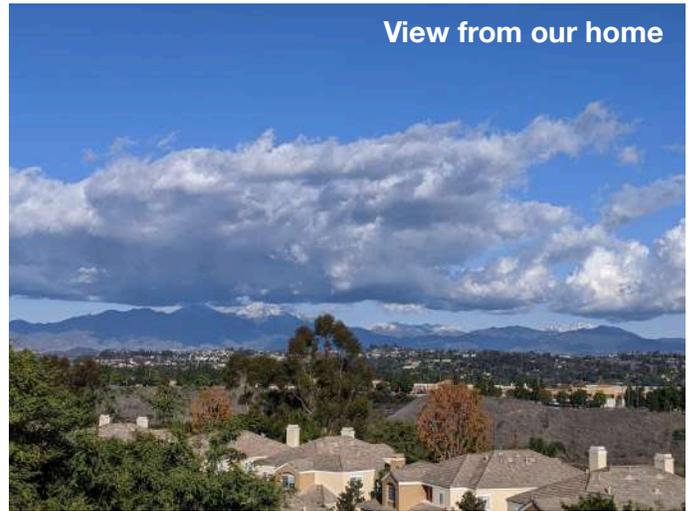

Our Buddhist mentor teaches that parents should pour love upon their children like the sun nurtures sunflowers. This is because people can live powerfully for the rest of their lives with the energy of love that they received in their childhood.

We would like to contribute toward world peace in our daily lives through valuing each and every person we encounter. We firmly believe that children are the hope for humanity's future. We earnestly wish to involve ourselves in raising the next generation.

Our Home in Southern California

Our home is bright, comfortable, and safe. We are located on a hill. We enjoy beautiful views and sounds of nature like trees, mountains and birds in the sky. The spectacular dawns and sunsets are a daily treasure. Our home is in a gated community, where it is quiet, and people are very friendly. There is a beautiful city park next to the community, which we enjoy taking a walk to. Also, we are located in an excellent school district.

Our Promise

We will expose our child to all types of books, music art and sports. Our child will grow up in a bilingual home and learn Japanese and English, as we use both languages in our daily lives. We will provide an environment conducive to learning and developing interests, so that he/she can reach their full potential. We will encourage our child to have a positive outlook, be creative and work cooperatively with others in daily life.

We will comfort, nurture and guide our child to the utmost. We will always love our son or daughter, growing together side by side as human beings. We will encourage our child to explore his/her values and choose his/her own path in life. We hope our child will become a global citizen, who perceives and respects diversity of race and culture, and will carry on in our shared mission toward world peace.

Thank you so much for reading our profile.

We would like to get know you and hear your thoughts and concerns on adoption. We understand that you will always be your child's birth mother, and it is our intention to honor that connection in whatever way is most value creating for you, our family and our shared child.

We are so excited to meet you, and talk with you.

Warm regards,

Takashi & Kyoko
