

ANNE & ERIC

Hi there!

Hi, I'm Anne and my Husband is Eric. We are very excited to have you read our book. We want to start off by saying we admire your strength in making such a hard decision and we promise to love your child forever and take the best care of him/her that we can. When Eric and I met, we knew we wanted to build a family, however God had a different plan, and we were not able to get pregnant at no fault of our own. This is our way of having a child to love and grow our family with. Your child will know more love in his/her life than possibly imagined. We have an amazing support system and could not be more excited to expand our family.

A FEW OF OUR FAVORITE THINGS

-  VOLUNTEERING AT CHURCH
-  BEING ON THE LAKE
-  TRIPS TO THE BEACH
-  BASEBALL
-  SPENDING TIME AT HOME

Our story did not begin like most. Eric and I went to the same high school and knew each other, however, the sparks never ignited. In 2013, we reconnected via Facebook and the firework show began. We went to lunch and a movie on our first date because my schedule was crazy and I had to get to work, however I could not stop thinking about him the entire rest of the day. Our relationship progressed quickly, and we went on trip to the beach where he proposed to me at sunset.

We married in 2014 and began trying to grow our family. We struggled with pregnancy and tried every method available; it just was not in God's plans for us. Eric and I live our best life with the blessings we have been provided and enjoy trips to the beach, mountains, and any kind of sporting events especially baseball. We have season tickets to our local minor league baseball team and enjoy being at the ballpark. Our family and friends are very important to us, and we try to spend as much time making memories with them as we can.

ALL ABOUT

Anne

A NOTE FROM ERIC

Anne is the most caring, sweet, beautiful woman I know. She puts others first before herself and is always there for people to lean on.

Anne is outgoing, involved, and respected by her community and church. She is not serious all the time though and loves to have fun. Her laugh is contagious and will fill a room, nothing makes me happier than to see her smile.

Anne comes from a close family with strong morals and values that welcomed me in with open arms immediately when we started dating and I have always been very comfortable around them. I hope we can build a family like hers and share our love for each other with a child. Anne enjoys going to concerts with her friends, crafting and decorating our home for all the holidays.

ALL ABOUT Eric

A NOTE FROM ANNE

Eric is my other half, I knew after our first date that I was going to spend the rest of my life with him. Eric is very hardworking and loyal, that is how I would best describe him. He works hard to make sure that I am well taken care of, he supports me in all that I do and loves me unconditionally, I know he will do the same for our new addition. Eric makes sure we are taken care of financially as well as he is always there for me. Eric would drop everything to help a family or friend who needs it. We are members of a boat club and Eric loves to spend his weekends on the lake riding around and playing in the water or going to baseball game. He played college baseball and is my sports stud. Eric's family is a lot like mine, and we grew up in the same town. His family loves us and supports us, and I love them like my own.

OUR

Family

Family
Thanksgiving

Our home is very welcoming, and our door is always open for them. We are very blessed in that both of our parents live close to us, and we love spending time with them. We both have brothers, Anne's brother lives in Florida and we travel to see him often where we can enjoy the beach and great sea food. Eric's brother lives a little bit further away and we don't see him quite as often, however with face-time and social media we get to chat and enjoy events with them as much as possible. Our families are both very supportive of our decision and excited to welcome our new child.

OUR Friends

Our friends, who are just like family, are our back bones. They come over for cookouts, go to sporting events, have family game nights, and enjoy concerts with us.

OUR FURRY

Friend

Toby, our sweet Dachshund

The other part of our family that means a lot to us is our dog, Toby. Toby is a ten-year-old Dachshund. He is very lazy and sleeps all day long but loves a good belly rub. He is getting older but loves kids and cuddling. He is as excited about this process as we are and can't wait to have a friend.

OUR

Home

Our home is exactly what it sounds like, a home. Our home is a place of love, respect, and cleanliness. Our home is where we share meals together, laugh together and yes even sometimes cry together. We have a large eat in kitchen where we will sit and eat dinner as a family. We take a lot of pride in our home and community. We live about 45 minutes outside of the city which allows us ample opportunities to do a lot of activities. We can head north and spend the day in the mountains, or we can go to the city and see all the sites, zoo, aquarium, baseball games, and water parks. One of our favorite things to do is go get on the boat and cruise around the lake for the day.

Our home is 4 bedrooms and 2 baths. The nursery will be a sanctuary where they will feel safe, comfortable, and loved. They will have everything they need to grow and prosper. Our community is great and has parks, lakes, and plenty of playgrounds where we can go play. We have a large fenced in back yard where we like to entertain and hopefully one day build a playground for our child. Our subdivision is very safe, and we look out for one another, we have a neighborhood watch program as well as social media where all the parents communicate and keep tabs on the kids. It's a close community and we can't wait to raise our child in it.

Thank
You

We hope you hear our heart when reading these pages. We will love your child unconditionally. We are excited and can't wait to start our new family. Thank you for taking the time to read our book. We eagerly await learning more about you.

With love,

Anne
& Eric
